NEW YEAR – NEW CYBER THREAT

COLUMBUS OHIO, January 5, 2018 - New reports inform that a computer run by any Intel processor from 1995 onward, bar Itanium and Atom chips manufactured before 2013 are likely vulnerable to new attacks called Meltdown and Spectre. Â Cloud environments are also affected. The flaw allows a hacker to read information from the memory at the "kernel" level deep in the operating system that's key to the functioning of the computer. What can you do? Back up your system and retain the backup in separate locations Be on the lookout for any unusual activity. Updates are the best antidote to the problem. Â Click here for a list of the updates available now. Watch for continued updates as they become available. As always, if you have any questions,do not hesitate to contact us at OBLIC Gretchen Koehler Mote, Esq., Director of Loss Prevention Ohio BarÂ Liability Insurance Company

OBLIC is dedicated to protecting Ohio lawyers and their clients and has carried this mission for over three decades.
